Rebels Evacuate Williamsburg.—McDowell's Organizing Loyal Blacks as Laborers—Fredericksburg now Occupied by Union Forces—Particulars of the Attack on New Orleans—The Rebels Lost Eleven Gunboats—Chinle Obstructions Broken—Thirteen Steamers Passed the Forts—Gen. Butler Landed 4000 Men Above—Federal Loss One Gunboat and 160 Men—The Rebels Slight Nicks the Rebel Ram—News from Vera Cruz—The French Forces Have Taken Orizaba—Burnside Organizing Union Men in North Carolina.

WASHINGTON, 7th. The rebels have evacuated Williamsburg, and are fleeing towards Richmond. Our army is following them up vigorously. The battle of Monday was very severe, and the loss of the rebels proves to have been very large.

New York, 7th. The Tribune's Washington correspondent states that we learn from Fredericksburg that General McDowell is now organizing the loyal blacks as fast as they arrive, into companies and regiments, and that the most intelligent men of their own color, and establishing a line of promotion by which they may in a short time, attain to the same pay as an ordinary soldier. The proceeds given them at first ranges from twenty-five to forty cents per day, with one day's rations, and clothing.

Private soldiers hereafter are not to be employed in rebuilding railroads and bridges, if black labor can be obtained. This soldier will be carried by the mule train, and not the pack and mule and horse.

The Herald's despatch says the report of the Finance Committee of the Senate upon the tax bill, is accompanied by an amendment offered by Senator McDougall, one of the committee, as a substitute for the whole bill. This bill proposes to raise a revenue from the following sources:

First—Capital, active and circulating, to be reached by a tax on sales and transfers, and on receipts of some classes of business, as hotels, &c. $10,000,000.

Second—Capital, fixed and realized, income duties on interest, and interest paying bonds and securities, $10,000,000.

Third—Excise on spirits, malt liquor and manufactured tobacco, $10,000,000.

Fourth—Duties on legacies and inheritances, graded from one to eight per cent., $7,000,000.

A system of payment, by ad valorem stamps is adopted throughout.

The officials employed are to be first, a common soldier of internal revenues at Washington, to supervise a local inspector at the several third streets with deputies, be appointed by them third a stamp agent in each district, or more than one if necessary, for the disposal of stamps.

This is substantially the system recommended by the Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trade of Boston and Philadelphia. It is claimed that it is less expensive, less complicated and affords reasonable convenience to the public, that this mode of collection will be less felt and it affords complete checks to the parties paying, all the way up to the commissioner, and that it will collect the tax for less than three per cent.

Senator Foster received a despatch to-night from General Fitz John Porter, stating that everything was working well with the army at Williamsburg.

The morning Major Davis, of the Harris Light Cavalry established his headquarters in the Farmers Bank in Fredericksburg, as Provisional Marshal of the city, housing the stars and stripes permanently, for the first time in town since the rebellion.

President Buchanan's Postmaster was arrested by the post office, and will be held in custody until an equivalent for money plundered from the post-office is disgorged.

HEADQUARTERS Army of Potomac, May 6th, 1862.

I have the pleasure to announce the occupation of this place, (Williamsburg) as the result of the hard fought action of yesterday. The day of Hancock's brilliant engagement yesterday was to turn the left of their line of works. He was strongly reinforced, and the enemy abandoned their entire position during the night, leaving all his sick and wounded on our hands. He was yesterday very severe. We have some 3000 wounded prisoners, and more than 10000 killed. The victory is complete. I have sent orders in pursuit.

The conduct of our men has been excellent, with scarcely an exception. The rebel works were very extensive, and exceedingly strong, both in respect to their position, and the works themselves. Our loss was heavy in General Hooker's division, but very little in the other parts of the field. Hancock's success was gained at a loss of not over twenty killed and wounded.

The weather is good to-day, but there is great difficulty in getting up food on account of the rain. Very few wagons have yet come up. Am authorized to follow the example of other generals, and direct the names of battles to be put on the colors of regiments? We have cut a battle to fight before reaching Richmond. (Signed) Major General Commanding.

Fortress Monroe, 6th, via Baltimore, 7th. The flag of truce that went up James River yesterday morning to receive released prisoners returned to-day with the following: One day's pay. The boat anchored all night off Day's Point. No prisoners were seen, and no explanation given. This is the third time General Wool has been deceived in regard to the release of these prisoners.

The steamers Jamestown and Yorktown passed down the river past the flag of truce at half past one o'clock this morning, bound to Norfolk. The rebel gunboat Tacony came alongside yesterday afternoon, to ascertain the object of this flag of truce. The Tacony is armed with a 100 pounder Parrott gun. All her officers, with one exception, were drunk.

Williamsburg, Va., 6th. In the engagement yesterday the enemy suffered terribly. General Kettner was killed. The enemy had a force here yesterday of 60,000 men, and only decided to evacuate after the brilliant bayonet charge of General Hancock.

New York 7th. The gunboat Daniel Smith arrived at Havana on the 6th, from Fort Jackson 26th. The attack on the rebel forts commenced on the 18th. On the 2d Flag Officer Farragut in the Hartford with 13 steamers, passed the forts, and Gen Butler landed 4000 men above. The rebels lost 1000 men and the Hullahs Tortle Menasses. Our forces took 400 prisoners. We lost 100 men, and one gunboat, the Veron, was sunk.

On the 25th a flag of truce was sent to Commander Porter asking the condition of surrender to which Gen Porter replied, "No conditions." Our flag now waves over the Custom House. Twenty mortar and three gunboats were engaged against the forts, silencing them after days of incessant fighting. The ships across the river were removed by our gunboats.

WASHINGTON, 7th. The Navy Department has ordered Assistant Paymaster John S. Woolson, to report to the bureau of provisions and clothing for duty Assistant, Bishop, is ordered to report to Flag Officer Porter for duty on board the Wyandott. Commander Overton Carr is to command the recruiting station at Albany, to relieve Lieut. Chase. Thomas W. M. Harris of Philadelphia, is appointed Acting Master of the Navy Yard at New York.

The Senate will, without ceremony, delay proceeding to consider the tariff bill, and will adjourn.

The rebels sent five rafts down the river, but they did little damage. One was sunk at the Hartford, but it was easily extinguished. The Veron and the rebel iron clad steamer Webster had a splendid engagement. The Webster ran into the Veron and sank her, but before going into the Veron, she poured in a volley of eight guns so destructive and crushing, that the Veron and Webster went down together.

The Flag Manassas was sunk by the steamship Mississippi. Our forces sent small boats to the five rafts, which towed them out of the way before they could do any harm.

A flag of truce was sent to demand an unconditional surrender of the fort. The rebels fired upon the flag of truce, and Gen. Higgins, the commander of Fort Jackson, refused to yield, saying that the terms were inadmissible.

The enemy were engaged in mounting guns on an iron clad battery, when the mortars responded to prevent them.

There has been no communication past the forts between the two divisions of the expedition. Commander Buggs arrived below the fort to-day with despatches from Officer Farragut. To Commander Porter, he having passed out of the Mississippi through Quarantine Bayou, and come down in the rear of Fort St. Philips.

From him I learned all that I have stated as having occurred above the forts, and also that 300 or 400 Confederate troops at the Quarantine station surrendered to our ships yesterday, and were released on their parole by Flag Officer Farragut after burying their dead.

At the Quarantine Station the Flag Officer started for New Orleans with the Hartford, Richmond, Pensacola, Brooklyn and Mississippi together with the Ironguns, Onondaga and gunboats, and as probably at anchor off the levee to-night.

The first cannot hold out long as Gen. Butler is marching with a strong force to attack Fort St. Philips in the rear.

An American war steamer reports capturing three rebel steamers and sending them to Key West, and chased another into Bahia Bona.

WILLIAMSBURG, 6th. Every hour proves our victory more complete. The enemy's loss was great, especially in officers. Have found a large number of their guns being captured. Prisoners are constantly arriving. G. H. McLaughlin, Maj. Gen. Commanding.

New York, 7th. A special to the Times dated Yorktown, Tuesday, states that our troops fought all day at Williamsburg.

Gen. McClellan arrived on the ground at five o'clock, and assumed command. He directed all our exhausted troops to retire, filled their places with fresh men, drove back the enemy, re-powered the guns, and worked taken in the morning, and captured another breastwork.

To-day the whole army, reserves, regulars and all, are ordered up, and the battle will be resumed if the rebels stand. A strong force has gone to West Point and will attack the rebels in the rear.

Vera Cruz dates of the 21st states that the French have opened hostilities and have taken possession of Orizaba. The British are declared to be holding private interviews with Donabato at Puebla. The Mexicans have received reinforcements of 9,000 men, and Gen. Zaragoza would dispute the march of the French.

Advices received from Burnside's division say a regiment of North Carolinians have been organized.

Largely numbers of Union men have voluntarily come and taken the oath of allegiance, and they will be armed and equipped by Gen. Burnside, to defend their homes against rebels.

Special Dispatch to the Whig & Courier

August 1st, May 7.

The Governor has to-day nominated Hon. Charles H. Walton of Auburn, as Associate Judge of the Supreme Court, in place of Judge May, whose term expires this week.

Gen. McClellan Still in Pursuit of the Enemy.

Gen. Banks's Army at New Market.

A Skirmish with Ashby's Cavalry.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

Fortress Monroe, 7.

The Norwegian corvette Nepion arrived this morning, and the commander visited General Wool. The Merrimack came out to day, but did nothing.

A rumor to-night by the mail boat from Yorktown states that the enemy have crossed the Chickahominy and destroyed the bridges in their rear. McClellan is still pursuing them.

New Market, Va., 7th.

Yesterday afternoon a detachment of the New York 6th cavalry made a reconnaissance this side of Fredericksburg. When five miles this side they encountered upwards of 200 of Ashby's cavalry. They charged upon them and pursued them within two miles of the town. Ten rebels were killed and six taken prisoners. Our loss was one killed and the battalion adjutant taken prisoner. The work on our side was done with the sabre, and it was a very gallant affair.

An officer from Mount Jackson this morning says that the guard at the bridge near town last night to burn the bridge, but were repulsed. There is no communication of this as yet.

Nothing but small rebel pickets are seen in the neighborhood of the Columbia Bridge, on the Surry valley.

The weather is cool and pleasant. The men are improving.

New York 7th.

Private advice states that General Banks's army will still be at New Market waiting for forage and provisions.

Nine New Hampshire, 20 Maine, 8 Massachusetts, and 6 Illinois soldiers were taken charge of by Colonel Howe at the New England Rooms. Forty New York soldiers were taken to the Park barracks, by the New York authorities, and a few from Connecticut were sent to that State, besides some bodies. All were from Newbern. They are receiving every attention from the State agents, physicians and volunteer lady nurses.
